

A close-up photograph of a yellow rose with several water droplets on its petals. The rose is the central focus, with its petals showing a gradient of yellow and some pinkish edges. The background is dark and out of focus.

Esther 09:19 Therefore the Jews of the villages, that dwelt in the unwalled towns, made the fourteenth day of the month Adar a day of gladness and feasting, and a good day, and of sending portions one to another.