

A close-up photograph of a dense garden bed. The foreground is filled with numerous purple flowers, likely petunias, with some showing signs of wear or damage. Interspersed among the purple flowers are several bright red flowers, possibly geraniums, and a few pink ones. In the lower right, a large, bright yellow flower is visible. The background is a soft-focus view of a blue sky and a building with windows. The text "Job 40:06 Then answered the LORD unto Job out of the whirlwind, and said," is overlaid in white, serif font across the upper portion of the image.
