

A close-up photograph of golden wheat stalks, likely in a field during harvest. The stalks are tall and thin, with long, feathery awns. A small butterfly is perched on one of the stalks in the lower-left foreground. The background is a soft-focus field of similar wheat. The text is overlaid in a large, white, serif font, centered horizontally and spanning most of the image's width.

Isaiah 60:20 Thy sun shall no more go down; neither shall thy moon withdraw itself: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the days of thy mourning shall be ended.