

A close-up photograph of white poinsettia leaves and flowers. The leaves are large, broad, and have a prominent vein pattern. The flowers are small and yellow, clustered in the center of the leaves. The background is dark, making the white leaves and flowers stand out.

Jeremiah 48:11 Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivity: therefore his taste remained in him, and his scent is not changed.
