

A close-up photograph of several pink roses in bloom, set against a dark green background. The roses have multiple layers of petals, showing a gradient from light pink to a deeper magenta. The text is overlaid on the upper half of the image.

Hosea 11:09 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city.