

A close-up photograph of several small, light pink flowers with five petals each, growing on green stems. In the upper right background, a larger, bright yellow flower is partially visible. The background is a soft, out-of-focus green.

Mark 11:28 And say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things?