

A close-up photograph of a rose bush. The image shows several large, vibrant green leaves with serrated edges. In the center, a single pink rose is in bloom, showing delicate petals with a hint of orange at the base. The background is dark and out of focus, emphasizing the rose and leaves in the foreground.

2nd Corinthians 05:11 Knowing therefore the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.